

Eva Owen Bowman

Class of 1964

Bowman is a native of Jacksboro, lived and attended school here until her college years. She graduated in 1964 as valedictorian of her class.

She attended Texas Wesleyan College on a scholarship, received her B.A. from the University of North Texas in 1967 and her M.A. from VPI, Blacksburg, Virginia in 1970. She taught English at VPI until she moved back to Denton, Texas in 1978.

She has taught in the Intensive English Institute at the University of North Texas for 15 years. She has taught English as a second language at all proficiency levels to students from all over the world. She currently serves as Curriculum Coordinator of the ESL program and Director of the English Training program for International Teaching Assistants at the University.

She has presented papers and lectures on teacher training and the international teaching assistant program throughout the United States and in 1993, went to Warsaw, Poland to train English teachers in a program sponsored by the United States Information Agency.

She is married to Dr. Kent Bowman, also an educator and has two grown children.